

collective creative collaborative

LeadingEdge Teams It all starts with great culture and vibrant workplaces

What would it feel like to turn your culture into a leading-edge workplace where everyone is invigorated and contributing with unprecedented levels of energy, passion and creativity?

We customise this unique LeadingEdge Teams workshop so you can start to build a TEAL-based culture that speaks to everyone's specific strengths, aspirations + drive and focus. We talk real culture and brand that's not given lip service – rather true blood pumping life.

Changing things up with this workshop, you can customise it for your team alone or have a number of different teams | businesses | schools | community groups in the room from your community. Rest assured, you'll be blown away by how heightened the collaboration becomes and the creativity + conversation contagious, energising everyone.

The concept starts with building a solid foundation.

Folk love working to their strengths with passion. They love understanding the 'people-stuff' which is very simple. They love to be fully on-board and contributing to your business | organisation's WHY and WHAT.

Add to this, the excitement of WHO they are being living and breathing values day in and day out. They love to know exactly why they are get out of bed in the morning. They devour exploring and gaining a greater understanding of each other. They enjoy taking precious time to self-manage, all the time ramping up their emotional intelligence. Combine this with a highly defined social awareness that your business is passionate about + a deep sense of purpose; and the thriving results speak for themselves.

We'll work with you to establish crucial cornerstones and build upon -

- Fast-start teaming principles so that your team hits the ground running
- Everyone on team walks forward with an even deeper sense of purpose
- Changes now handled with healthy energy and excitement
- Awareness and understanding that reclaims self-management and inner wholeness
- Confidence and an uplifting energy that's renewed through everyone's daily leadership
- Developing individual and team strengths that supplement goal-focused performance
- No rocket-science techniques that motivate, build and sustain team rapport
- Having everyone all in

We also work at your pace building this solid foundation and then customise next steps as you keep taking this current ceiling to the next floors for your business, organisation, school, and community.

Corene Walker Your Facilitator - Coach

Bringing out the best in people is where I love to be! As we move into a new generation of leading where emotional intelligence is to the fore, bridging the gap between the Millennials and X-Gen, and following the rising Teal leadership approach that requires wellness and resilience ... I'm excited to be a part of this big global movement.

Described as your greatest cheerleader and healthiest disruptor, wise, courageous, vulnerable, brave, intuitive, passionate and gutsy - it is a daily pleasure to hold that space wide open for all that's possible when it comes to empowering people to be exceptionally themselves. Everyone is a leader and it starts all from the inside-out.